1st Vice Commander Message

By Roger Kiesner 414-350-0402

Message from 1ST Vice Commander Roger Kiesner

It is with a heavy heart that I am writing this article for our Commander Alex due to the passing of his brother William R. "Bill" Kolander on December 21st. Bill was a member of Post 449 for 18 years and has recently served as the Posts Sergeant of Arms, he will be greatly missed by us serving on the Executive Committee. Bill graduated from Hamilton HS in Sussex WI in 1966 and went on to serve in the US Navy and US Army. He proudly served our country in Operations Desert Storm and Desert Shield. You could also find him helping the post whenever and wherever he was needed. He would be in the kitchen helping prepare and serve food during Post events or hanging tv sets in the bar area. Please keep Alex and his family in your thoughts and prayers during their time of grief and healing. Visitation for Bill will be held on Saturday January 24, 2026 at the Schmidt & Bartelt Funeral Home In Menomonee Falls from 11 AM until the time of the Memorial Service at 1 PM.

Revelation :21 "Then I saw a new heaven and a new earth, for the first heaven and the first earth had passed away, and there was no longer any sea. 2 I saw the Holy City, the new Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, prepared as a bride beautifully dressed for her husband. 3 And I heard a loud voice from the throne saying, "Look! God's dwelling place is now among the people, and he will dwell with them. They will be his people, and God himself will be with them and be their God. 4 'He will wipe every tear from their eyes. There will be no more death'[b] or mourning or crying or pain, for the old order of things has passed away."

5 He who was seated on the throne said, "I am making everything new!" Then he said, "Write this down, for these words are trustworthy and true."

6 He said to me: "It is done. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Beginning and the End. To the thirsty I will give water without cost from the spring of the water of life. 7 Those who are victorious will inherit all this, and I will be their God and they will be my children.

Please take Bill's example to help and serve our fellow veterans any way you can, whether it be fund raising or serving on our Executive Committee. May God watch over all of you and keep you safe till we meet again.

Roger Kiesmer

VA NEWS & INFORMATION:

Did you know many studies have shown that U.S. veterans are 1.5 times more likely to get ALS compared with people who never served in the military? Amyotrophic Lateral Sclerosis (ALS), is a progressive neurodegenerative disease that affects nerve cells in the brain and spinal cord. Veterans appear to have a higher risk of developing ALS because military service exposes them to a unique combination of environmental, physical, and physiological stressors that may contribute to motor-neuron degeneration. Research suggests that factors such as exposure to toxins (including pesticides, solvents, and combustion by-products), traumatic injuries, particularly head trauma, intense physical exertion, extreme environmental conditions, and certain infections may all play a role.

Did you know an expedited VA processing for financial hardship is a special priority handling the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) offers when a veteran or claimant is facing severe economic distress? When approved, the VA moves the claim or appeal ahead of others in the queue so it can be reviewed and decided more quickly than normal. This type of expedited processing is meant for situations where financial instability threatens basic needs such as when a veteran is experiencing homelessness or is at risk of eviction, foreclosure, utility shut-offs, or has significant unpaid medical bills they cannot afford.

Did you know among U.S. service members, sarcoidosis represents one of the most frequently identified non-infectious granulomatous diseases? According to a large VA cohort study covering more than 13 million veterans, the annual prevalence of sarcoidosis was 54.9 per 100,000 veterans, compared to 27.1 per 100,000 in the general population. The annual incidence was also four to five times higher in veterans, particularly among those with prior deployment or exposure to particulate matter. Sarcoidosis is a disease in which clusters of inflammatory cells form in different organs. It most commonly affects the lungs, but it can also involve the skin, eyes, heart, liver, and nervous system. The condition is unpredictable; some veterans experience only mild symptoms, while others develop chronic or multi-organ sarcoidosis that causes significant disability. Research has shown the veteran population has twice the annual prevalence of sarcoidosis compared with the nonveteran population.

Did you know tinnitus is the most common service-connected disability among U.S. veterans? It affects more than 2 million former service members and ranks at the top of VA disability statistics. Beyond the persistent ringing, it often comes bundled with asymmetric or high-frequency hearing loss, conditions that can severely impact a veteran's daily communication.

It's a staggering reality that many veterans remain blissfully unaware of their eligibility for vital VA benefits. With the often-overlooked Agent Orange benefits slipping through the cracks of their knowledge. This lack of awareness can leave many veterans feeling lost and overwhelmed, but it doesn't have to be this way.

U.S. military bases may pose significant health risks to both veterans and their dependents. Recent studies have shown that military bases are full of cancer-causing compounds that can lead to the development of cancer years later. This is a major concern for millions service members and their families who have sacrificed so much for our country.

Unfortunately, even base housing has been found to have high levels of harmful cancer-causing compounds, putting families at risk. Veterans and their dependents who have lived on or near military bases to be aware of these risks and to seek medical attention if they experience any symptoms related to cancer.

Did you know Camp Lejeune has become synonymous with one of the most significant water contamination incidents in United States history? Thousands of service members and their families were unknowingly exposed to toxic chemicals in the water supply for over three decades, leading to a myriad of health complications, including cancer. The situation presents a sad reality, but it also paves the way for affected individuals to seek legal recourse through the Camp Lejeune Justice Act of 2022 and pursue the Camp Lejeune water contamination lawsuit with the help of knowledgeable lawyers.

Did you know skin cancer (including melanoma and nonmelanoma types) appears to be one of the most prevalent dermatologic conditions in veterans? In a large national study using NHANES data, veterans reported a much higher prevalence of any skin cancer compared with non-veterans (about 9.0% vs. 2.9%) and also higher rates of melanoma and non-melanoma skin cancer.

Did you know veterans can link Erectile Dysfunction (ED) to a service-connected condition by establishing it as a secondary service connection? Which means showing that ED is caused or aggravated by an already service-connected disability. This connection is typically proven through medical nexus evidence, such as a physician's opinion stating that the veteran's ED is "at least as likely as not" due to the primary condition. Common service-connected causes include diabetes, hypertension, cardiovascular disease, PTSD, depression, spinal or neurological injuries, and hormonal disorders. ED may also be linked to medications prescribed for service-connected conditions, such as antidepressants, blood pressure medications, or pain management drugs.

Did you know veterans exposed to burn pits, jet fuel, or other airborne toxins may win service connection for sleep apnea by proving the exposure caused or aggravated their condition? Evidence can include deployment records, a sleep study diagnosis, and a medical nexus opinion linking sleep apnea to toxic exposure.

Remember..... That all gave some, but many gave all

Hope your holidays were filled with joy and may the New Year fill your days with health and happiness.
I spent my holiday with friends in Mexico. It is their most important holiday and a wonderful time of year. I thought you would like to read what one of the children wrote about it.

A Prayer for the New Year:

Give us the kindness to hear with compassion,
To offer support, loving comfort, and care.
Give us the courage to do what is needed,
The wisdom to choose what is right and most fair.
Give us the vision to see what is possible.
Give us the faith that will help pave the way for a Present that's Hopeful.
A future that's Peaceful.
Give us the Heart to bring Joy to each day.

May your New Year be filled with God's blessings!
I know this is the new year but since I'm now in Mexico at Christmas, I thought you'd find the following letter worth reading,

Puerto Vallarta, Jalisco
December 24, 2025

Mexican Christmas

To celebrate Christmas in a Mexican way, it is very common to spend it with family. The Christmas spirit usually begins at the start of December, when families start getting together to enjoy the season. One of the most common traditions is celebrating posadas, which are family parties held in the afternoon or at night. During these gatherings, people break piñatas, collect candy, and ask for posada, which is a representation of Joseph, Mary, and the pilgrims singing traditional songs while asking for shelter at a house. In this tradition, half of the people stay outside the house and the other half remain inside. After this, the posada officially begins, and everyone enjoys traditional food such as pozole, tamales, and atole, exchanges small gifts, sings Christmas songs, and spends quality time with family and friends. These posadas usually take place before December 24.

December 24 is one of the most important days because it is when people feel closest to their loved ones. From the morning, or even the day before, families begin preparing the food for Nochebuena. Some of the most traditional dishes include romeritos, turkey, pork leg, pork loin, apple salad, and other homemade meals. The decorations match the season, and you can see Christmas trees, gingerbread houses, and decorations on doors. In this way, everyone helps in some way, making the celebration even more special.

The celebration usually starts around 7:00 p.m. Children can be seen playing, singing, and enjoying the night while Christmas music plays in the background. Piñatas are broken, people talk and laugh, and the atmosphere feels warm and happy. In Mexico, it is also common to open presents on Nochebuena instead of Christmas Day. This tradition makes the night even more exciting and meaningful for everyone.

For me, celebrating Christmas in Mexico is not just about food or gifts, but about being together, sharing traditions, and creating special memories with the people I love.
